J.F.WALKER

25 Nov. 1839 - 23 May 1907

Curator of Geology at the Yorkshire Museum 1893-1907.

Specialist on fossil Brachiopoda; his collection of Cretaceous and Jurassic Brachiopoda in B.M.(N.H.); Shenley Limestone Brachiopoda in IGS.

Walker recognised that a single specimen could not adequately represent the range of morphology occurring within a species and his favourite dictum became: "It would be good for palaeontology, if all type specimens were destroyed".
